Media Release 14 March 2018

The Catholic Religious Victoria Education Committee's website has been launched.

The Catholic Religious Victoria Education Committee represents the collective interests of 19 Religious Congregations or newly formed Public Juridic Persons which are responsible for 51 Catholic Secondary schools and 2 Catholic Primary schools in Victoria. Some of the secondary schools also operate Primary and Early Learning schools.

The website provides information on each of these governing bodies and a Directory of Schools. It lists all of the Religious Institutes/Congregations and Ministerial Public Juridic Persons operating Catholic Schools in Victoria and also provides details of these schools for which shared governance arrangements between Religious Institutes and Parish/Diocese are in place.

Bernard Dobson, the Executive Officer of the Committee, said “It is hoped that those with an interest in Catholic Education in Victoria will find the site useful. It is designed specifically to provide support for Catholic secondary schools in Victoria whose governing body is a Religious Institute, a Ministerial Public Juridic Person and/or an incorporated board.”

The site lists the members of the Committee and the body they represent and the committee’s Terms of Reference and Role and Function and the Annual Report of the Committee.

The site is designed to assist Principals and Governors with audio-visual and printed materials to facilitate the formation of Trustees, Board and Council members and staff.

Bernard Dobson hopes that in the future, the site will include a Newsletter that can be used to communicate the outstanding work being done in our schools as we continue to proclaim the good news of Jesus the Christ.
