PRESS RELEASE

Carmelites Launch Website with Spirit

The Discalced Carmelites of the Australia-Oceania region have completely revitalized and relaunched their website www.carmelite.com. Named “Carmelite Spirit,” the website and its associated social media channels are primarily intended to share the riches of the Carmelite spiritual tradition with the “everyday” Catholic looking for spiritual refreshment, and other spiritual seekers. To this end, the website features regularly updated elements such as talks on Carmelite themes, reflections on the spiritual life from a Carmelite perspective, and words of wisdom from contemporary and classic Carmelite figures.

Carmelite Spirit is also a resource for people discerning a Carmelite vocation. The website offers, for example, a glimpse into every enclosed community of Carmelite nuns in the region.

Commenting on this new venture, Fr Bernard Hancock, Provincial of the Discalced Carmelites in the Australia-Oceania region, said, “The new website is fresh, innovative and visually appealing. This is a very exciting project for the Carmelites. It is an important avenue through which we can share the treasures of our spirituality with everyone.”

Future endeavours for Carmelite Spirit include an online Advent retreat and expansion of the Carmelite Spirit social media presence.
