

Expression of Interest for Emerging Futures Collaborative Limited

Emerging Futures Collaborative Limited (EFCL) has a vital mission and vision for Catholic religious institutes in Australia as many move to completion. Our mission is to serve and support Religious Institutes moving to completion, ensuring they are respected and honoured for their unique contributions.

EFCL is continually looking to the future in its support of religious institutes and, in doing so, is developing its succession planning for implementation over time. We envision enabling Religious Institutes to walk the path ahead with a common purpose. This vision involves being respectful of each unique context and engaging with one another and the wider society through their shared charism, anticipating a prophetic, transformative experience.

We are seeking expressions of interest (EOI) from religious sisters, brothers, or priests who may be interested in joining the EFCL team. The role will be part-time, and a stipend is paid consistent with the CRA guidelines. This role offers a unique opportunity to be part of a dedicated team that supports and honours the legacy of Religious Institutes while preparing for their future.
