GOOD SAMARITAN INN | CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

About the Organisation

Good Samaritan Inn (GSI) is a respected community organisation providing crisis and transitional accommodation for women, gender diverse people and children experiencing family violence and homelessness. Inspired by a mission of compassion and justice, GSI delivers trauma-informed, high-quality care and actively engages in advocacy and sector partnerships.

Over recent years, the organisation has undergone considerable growth. With further expansion planned – including a new purpose-built facility – GSI requires a CEO who can lead both day-to-day operations and long-term strategic direction. The outgoing CEO has provided strong leadership, and the Board now seeks a new leader who can consolidate operational excellence while positioning the organisation for future sustainability and impact.

The Opportunity

GSI is seeking a strategic and values-driven CEO to lead the organisation through its next phase of growth. As a respected provider of crisis and transitional accommodation for women and children, GSI requires a leader who can manage day-to-day operations while driving long-term sustainability.

About you

- You will be a values-driven leader who is reflective, emotionally intelligent and resilient, with the ability to make courageous and clear decisions.
- You will bring extensive senior sector experience, strong stakeholder engagement skills, and a deep commitment to GSI's mission.
- You will enjoy guiding an organisation through transformation, while ensuring financial viability and service continuity.
- Others would recognise you as a leader who models excellent management skills, develops others and improves organisational culture, leaving a lasting legacy.

What's on offer

A three (3) year contract (with potential 2-year extension) and a competitive executive salary package will be negotiated with the successful applicant, based on skills and experience.
