Diocese of Lismore magazine returns after 5 years

The Diocese of Lismore is pleased to announce the long-awaited return of Catholic Life magazine this December, marking its first edition in five years. The magazine will be available in print and online, ensuring it reaches readers across the Diocese's geographic footprint from Tweed Heads to Laurieton, and around the world.

The December edition celebrates the Diocese's Catholic community, offering a diverse collection of news, stories, and reflections. From a Christmas message by Bishop Greg Homeming, to the inspiring work of prison chaplains bringing hope as the 'hands and feet of Jesus,' the magazine reflects the diversity and compassion of the Diocese. Alongside its rich content, Catholic Life has been given a fresh new look, featuring a modern design that enhances readability and high-quality imagery that illustrates the vibrancy and natural beauty of the Diocese.

Bishop Greg Homeming warmly welcomed the magazine's return: "Catholic Life has historically been an important part of our communication within the Diocese, sharing the good news of our communities. Its return is an opportunity to reconnect, reflect, and celebrate the many ways God's love is present in our lives."

Bishop Greg added: "I encourage everyone to enjoy the stories of faith, service, and hope in this edition. Catholic Life is here to remind us of the strength of our communities and our mission as a Diocese."

Printed copies are available at parishes across the Diocese of Lismore, and the digital edition is available to read now: lismorediocese.org/catholic-life-magazine-december-2024/
